Charter #2786

Dawn Patrol, Friday October 27th:

The "Dawn Patrol" meets several days a week during the summer to fly and enjoy each others company.

Dick Osborn preparing his Ultimate 2 foamie biplane for a flight.

With morning Sun finally breaking through to take the chill off, Dick Osborn helps Steve Baker launch Steve's pattern plane.

Dick Osborn's beautiful nitro powered Waco Biplane, flies well according to Dick, but he didn't fly it this day.

Steve Baker checking out everything (control surface directions, travel, & rate, and Tx range) on Evan's Tx for Evan's Cessna SkyLane. The CG was checked to make sure it matched the manufacturer's specifications, but...

New member, Arnie Tran, pre-flighting his E-Flite Sukhoi foamie which has an AS3X stabilizer installed.

Steve Baker and Dennis Shiner getting Dennis' pattern plane started.

Ed Dialogue, rests up from getting banged up from falling down stairs with his recently replaced knee joint. His narrow-bodied pattern plane waits.

Steve Baker helping launch Dennis' plane while Dick Osborn flies his plane in background.

Evan and Steve checking the engine mixture on the Cessna prior to its maiden flight. Steve lined up the plane for take off, but as the plane lifted off there wasn't enough down elevator travel to level off and it stalled. It immediately did a wing over, and crashed with nose and left wing tip hitting the dirt then cartwheeling over the tail.

Evan brings back the damaged plane back with minor wing tip damage, more severe nose damage, with the Sato 4-stroke unharmed. The plane is a built up ARF and pretty sturdy considering the crash did not hurt any of the flying surfaces except one wing tip. Steve is pretty sure the spec'd CG position was too far back, so that will get fixed before the next flight. Everyone is waiting to see this bird fly like it's supposed to, Evan.
